Largest Squad in Many Years | Cornell Victor To Answer McGraw's Roll Call In Track Meet

Frisch Only Regular in Party Leaving This Morning for San Antonio; 42 Athletes Mustered Dartmouth Finishes Second, by Veteran New York National League Players

By Charles A. Taylor

With the departure of the Giants for their spring training camp at San Antonio, Tex., to-day spring baseball for greater New York may be considered well under way. The first Yankee squad, which left this city test with Harvard and Dartmouth at Friday afternoon, is due at its spring base in Shreveport, La., to-night.

John J. McGraw, vice-president and manager of the Giants, as has always been his custom when his hands were not swathed in National League red tape, plans an old-fashioned trip of the kind that brought three consecutive pennants to the metropolis during the years 1911-'13, inclusive. Counting himself, assistant manager Hugh Jennings and Coach Jesse Burkett as players (and all will be active in unfform), McGraw will have no less than forty-two athletes at San Antonio when all answer the roll call. Of these, no less than fifteen will be pitching candidates; there will be five catchers, ten infielders and nine outfielders. Assistant business Manager Eddle Brannick will have charge of the delegation which is to depart from the Grand Central Station at 8:45 this morning. Coach Jesse Burkett and his son, Howard; Frank Frisch, Alex. Gaston, Leo V. Kane, Robert L. Grody, Raymond Barcroft and a dozen news paper men will comprise Brennick's retinue. The following additional pil-retinue. The following additional pligrims will be picked up at St. Louis to-morrow evening:

Watler Henline, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Arthur Nehf, Washington, Ind.; Roy Grimes, Minerva; Lee King, Monoogah, W. Va.; Vernon Spencer, Wixom, Mich.; Edward M. Brown, Ohio, Neb.; Joseph Rapp, Cincinnati, and Benny Kauff, Lancaster, Ohio.

First Practice Wednesday

These players will go direct to San Antonio from their winter quarters and all are expected to be at camp in time for the first practice Wednesday. George Burns and Miguel Gonzales (Havana, Cuba); Earl Smith (Hot Springs, Ark.); Fred Toney (Bessemer, Ala.); Jess Barnes and Virgil Barnes (Circleville, Kan.); J. C. (Rube) Benton (Clinton, N. C.); Wilfred D. Ryan (Stockton, Cal.); W. D. (Poll) Perritt (Shreveport, La.); C. Raymond Evans (Elizabeth City, N. C.); George L. Kelly (San Francisco, Calif.); David J. Six Giants are already in San Antonio with Assistant Manager Hughie Jennings. Outfielder Ross Young and Catcher Frank Snyder, of the Giants, wintered there. Pitchers "Slim" Sallee, Pat Shea, Claude Davenport and Olin Voight reported a week ahead of the rookies so as to be ready to serve something like pitching for the first batting practices.

piece of bungling in the office of the Reds cost Cincinnati its claim on this player. He showed such sterling worth in the association that practically every big league club bid for him.

Monroe was purchased from Beaumont, Tex.; Gross from San Antonio and Kane from Hartford, Conn. Howard Burkett is going South on the recommendation of his father, Jess. Lance Richbourg, who played third base for the University of Florida when the Giants trained at Gainesville, Fla., in 1919, made a great impression on McGraw, who believes the young man is now ready for the big leagues.

Five of McGraw's eight outfielders are well known to New York fans—Georgie, Burns, Bennie Kauff, Ross, Young, Vernon Spencer and Lee King. Of the others Curtis Walker was purchased from Augusta, Edward W. Brown was bought from San Antonio and Raymond Barcroft, who hails from Lawrence, Mass., was a free agent before signing with McGraw.

Less Than Point Behind; Thomson Individual Star

BOSTON, Feb. 26 .- The Cornell track Mechanics' Building to-day, with 36 1-5 points. Dartmouth was second, with 35 3-5 and Harvard trailed, with 20 1-5.

The Ithacans' success was unexpected, as Cornell had little indoor trained, as Cornell had little indoor training. The running specialists, who have been the principal factors of strength with Cornell teams for a decade, brought their team victory, as almost two-thirds of Cornell's points were gained in three events, the 600 yards, 1,000 yards and relay races. Cornell won the last in a fairly close finish, with Captain Earl J. Thomson, of Dartmouth, pressing hard in second place.

Thomson was the individual star, the Olympic hurdling champion equalling the reputed world record of six seconds for the non-regulation 65-yard high hurdles event, gaining second place in the broad jump and running as anchor in the relay. His negro team mate, U. A. Shelburne, brought 10 points to Dartmouth, dashing in first in the 40-yard event and putting the shot farthest.

yard event and putting the shot farthest.

The only real break in Cornell's running successes was by Captain D. F. O'Connell, of Havrard, who won the mile run in a duel with T. C. McDermott, the Ithacans' long-distance leader. McDermott added to his second honors in the event a third place in the 1,000-yard run, which was won by C. C. Carter, of Cornell. O'Connell's previous exertions forced him to drop out of the 1,000-yard run.

The Collegiate games, which were held in Mechanics Building, were on the same competitive floor as the annual indoor championship events of the New England A. A.
